Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, 2, and 5-8 are, drawn to a storage having a trench in the medium corresponding to at least two storage cells, classified in class 369, subclass 275.3.
- II. Claims 3, 4, and 9-22 are, drawn to a storage device wherein the transition between a first structure to a second structure or the lack thereof correspond to adapt bit, classified in class 369, subclass 126.
- III. Claims 23 and 24 are, drawn to storage having variable plural trench, classified in class 369, subclass 275.4.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions group one and any of groups two or three are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination group one has separate utility such as an optical medium which does not require the use of a variable trench on the storage medium. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.
